

2014 Indiana State Conference to End Sexual Violence

April 24-25, 2014

Wyndham Indianapolis West

April 23, 2014

Prevention Institute Training

Be the Change

Indiana's only statewide conference focused on sexual violence. This year's conference offers sessions addressing victim issues, offender treatment, and prevention.

In order to make a change in our society, we must start with ourselves. This year we are challenging professionals and all those engaged in ending sexual violence in Indiana to Be the Change in their communities and across the state.

Are you wondering if this conference is for you? If so, you should know that this conference is perfect for:

Rape Crisis Advocates	Prosecutors	Mental Health Professionals	Campus Security
Educators	Youth Advocates	Program Administrators	College Professionals
Parents	Probation Officers	Parole Officers	Survivors of Sexual Violence
Prevention Professionals	Victims Assistance	Department of Corrections Staff	Volunteers
Law Enforcement	Investigators	Sexual Assault Nurse Examiners	School administrators
Therapists	School Board members	Court Appointed Special Advocates	Nurses
		Foster Care Givers	Child Protective Service Agents

Join us a day early on April 23, 2014

PREVENTION INSTITUTE TRAINING

Training will include the Prevention Institute framework for preventing violence, discussions on multi-sector collaboration to prevent sexual violence, and on community- and society-level strategies that address related issues such as poverty, gender equity, child maltreatment, and substance abuse.

This will be an all day training on Wednesday, April 23rd (Lunch is on your own).

8:00am	Registration
8:30am	Morning Plenary MARK YARBROUGH "Suffer from BURNOUT? Give'em the F.I.N.G.E.R.!"
9:45am	Breakout Sessions
11:00am	Awards Luncheon
1:15pm	Break
1:30pm	Keynote DON MCPHERSON
3:45pm	Closing Remarks

Burnout affects millions of Americans each year and has been called "the disease of our civilization." The unhappiness and detachment burnout causes can threaten your job, your relationships, and your health. But there's good news – burnout can be healed. Former 20-year elected District Attorney, Mark Yarbrough, personally experienced burnout, learned how to successfully overcome it, and went from "Burnout" to "On Fire!" Audience members will learn the definition of Burnout and the symptoms thereof. But more importantly, attendees will be laughing, and at the same time learning how to apply Mark's F.I.N.G.E.R. philosophy to themselves or their co-workers to avoid and/or recover from burnout.

Former NFL Quarterback, Heisman Trophy Runner-Up & College Football Hall of Famer, Don McPherson

For far too long "gender studies" and differences have been seen through the eyes of women. The lack of male perspective has led to a narrow view of men and how to communicate/work with them. As women assume a greater role in American business and culture, how they understand masculinity and their relationship with men become critically important to their success.

Session Descriptions

This year we will have six different options for breakout sessions: Advocacy, Medical/Mental Health, Criminal Justice, Prevention, Corrections, & Roundtable Discussions. All are welcome and encouraged to attend any topic they find interesting.

There will be limited seating in all Roundtable Discussions in order to ensure that a meaningful conversation can be facilitated in the short time that we have. Make sure to sign up at the Check-In Desk for any Roundtable Discussion you wish to attend.

If you are interested in Nursing CEUs – look for the following symbol for applicable sessions.

HOW TO SPEAK TO MEN ABOUT SEXUAL ASSAULT & RELATIONAL VIOLENCE

Aaron Boe, Aaron Boe Productions

This session will address the common challenges of speaking to men about sexual assault and dating aggression and the practical solutions to those challenges. We will walk through a model approach to speaking to young men and discuss the rationale for each component. We will also cover topics such as how to avoid errors that increase defensiveness and decrease learning, why common language used in prevention education fails to

Medical / Mental Health

EFFECTIVE AND ETHICAL TESTIMONY

Jenifer Markowitz ND, RN, WHNP-BC

In their role, Sexual Assault Nurse Examiners (SANEs) may be required to testify in criminal court. The purpose of this session is to provide a comprehensive look at the role of the forensic nurse in the criminal proceeding, as fact or expert witness, working for either prosecuting or defense. We will discuss the foundation for providing ethical and effective testimony, identifying ways in which SANEs can create a defensible practice that will withstand vigorous cross examination. This is considered an Advanced SANE Course.

IMPROVING THE HEALTHCARE RESPONSE TO SEXUAL ASSAULT VICTIMS

Jenifer Markowitz ND, RN, WHNP-BC

While Sexual Assault Nurse Examiners (SANEs) have improved care for sexual assault patients, there is still much we can do to elevate the healthcare response. This session will explore some of the often unmet issues our patients have; address our own challenges in doing this difficult work; and examine ways we can move our practices forward to provide comprehensive and holistic care for sexual assault victims.

This is considered an Advanced SANE Course.

PSYCHOLOGY OF POLYVICTIMIZATION

Angela Magaña, LMHC, Aspire Indiana Behavioral Health Systems

This presentation is designed to help the professional better understand and define chronic trauma, or polyvictimization. Trauma is far too common in today's society to try and work with victims and not take into account how their history of trauma permeates their functioning. The effects of trauma extend far outside the world of psychology and needs to be recognized as a cultural and sociological issue, impacting many professions. It is my hopes to have professionals gain a greater knowledge on this and have a more trauma-informed approach to their work.

Prevention

DEMYSTIFYING NON-STRANGER SEXUAL ASSAULT & NEW IMPLICATIONS FOR PRIMARY PREVENTION

Aaron Boe, Aaron Boe Productions

Let's get the fulcrum closer to the object. Better comprehension of the problem leads to better prevention. This program will discuss how Bandura's

Moral Disengagement Theory allows us to better understand non-stranger sexual assault and relational abuse and provides important implications for primary prevention. We will discuss why the understanding gap is more problematic than the awareness gap, why even educated and caring jury members and bystanders often fail to properly understand non-stranger assault, a framework for considering optimal prevention efforts when resources are limited and the 3 critical concepts to focus on for youth and colleges.

Criminal Justice

HUMAN TRAFFICKING IN OUR BACKYARD

Abigail Lawlis Kuzma, Office of the Indiana Attorney General

Mary Hutchison, Marion County Prosecutor's Office

Human trafficking is the fastest growing and second largest criminal industry worldwide. The average age that U.S. children are first pulled into commercial sex is 12-14, and between 100,000 and 300,000 American children are at risk for becoming victims each year. A Justice Department study found that 83% of sex trafficking victims identified in the U.S. were U.S. citizens. Human trafficking occurs throughout Indiana, and this session will help prepare criminal justice professionals to recognize victims, understand human trafficking law, and respond appropriately.

Keynotes

Dr. Tom Turpin

Tom Turpin is a professor of entomology at Purdue University, West Lafayette, Indiana. He received his B.S. degree in biology from Washburn University and a Ph.D. in entomology from Iowa State University where he worked on soil insects of corn. For two years during his Ph.D. study he was a high school science and math teacher and coach. He began his career at Purdue in 1971 as a researcher in the area of biology and management of insects associated with corn. His research resulted in a better understanding of the biology of corn rootworms, economic injury levels for insect pests of corn, and management decision processes of growers.

Dr. Turpin makes regular appearances on TV and radio programs and has been a guest on "Good Morning America," "Prairie Home Companion," and "Science Fridays with Ira Flatow." He and his work have been chronicled by "Time" and "People" magazine and he has been a speaker at Disney World's "International Flower and Garden Show."

In 2007, Dr. Turpin received the "Frederick L. Hovde Award of Excellences in Educational Service to the Rural People of Indiana." In 2012, he was named an honorary Old Master by Purdue University.
